Newport Beach, CA: 949-271-7202

Greg is one of the founding partners of Newmeyer Dillion, which grew from three attorneys to over 70 lawyers in Newport Beach and Walnut Creek, California, and Las Vegas, Nevada. Greg prides himself in helping not only to build a law firm with a first-tier reputation and an A list of clients, but one that embraced culture, diversity, inclusion, teamwork, collaboration and an integrated and holistic approach to client representation and service long before it became popular.

Greg believes client service is key. This means establishing a relationship of trust, confidence, affinity and loyalty. It also means delivering timely, excellent, efficient and cost-effective results. To help achieve this, Greg makes himself available to clients around the world and around the clock. Greg represents public and private entities and individuals in complex and high stakes business, insurance coverage, real estate and construction disputes. He also advises on insurance policy placement and review; risk avoidance, transfer and management; and alternative dispute resolution methods, techniques and enforceability. Greg has had an active trial and appellate practice. He has helped defeat and defend multi-million dollar claims and suits and obtained eight-figure verdicts and judgments and hundreds of millions of dollars in settlements. He also has argued and helped obtain published decisions at the California Supreme Court and state and federal appellate levels that have changed the course of California law and practice.

Beyond the Office

When Greg is not in the office advocating for his clients, he is out in nature as he tries to find a balance between his passion for his work and his passion for adventuring. Greg has had the opportunity to travel across the globe and participate in many extreme adventures that only an adrenaline junkie would understand. From heli-boarding in Canada to bungee jumping off a 300 foot parasail towed behind a boat in New Zealand, Greg has tried it all. For a full list of all Greg's adventures, click here!
